WORLD PEACE MUSIC FESTIVAL 2025

Sur Jahan - World Peace Music Festival

"Music doesn't lie. If there's something to be changed in this world, then it can only happen through music." – Jimi Hendrix

Sur Jahan is a World Peace Music Festival, which started its journey in 2011 at Kolkata. Over the years, the festival has also travelled to several places like Panjim, Delhi, Jaipur, Patna and has been attended by music lovers from all over the world including international festival organizers and directors. Sur Jahan upholds the motto of 'Music for Peace, Music for All' and has been a people's festival, where till date musicians from 32 countries have performed in this festival. The festival presents root music of the world and upholds the potential of music to bring social cohesion and peace. With the essence of celebrating cultural diversity, Sur Jahan is an ideal space for music lovers to experience world music.

Surjahan 2025

The 2025 edition of Sur Jahan is set to unfold across three locations: Kolkata, Bannabagram and Goa. This year's lineup features a diverse array of international and regional artists. International bands include Iceland's all-women band Umbra Ensemble, Sweden's Ale Moller Trio and Folkcorn, a 53-year old folk ensemble from the Netherlands. Indian artists will also perform at all places, celebrating India's rich cultural diversity. During the day, the festival offers workshop where audience and media can interact and get to know about the Int'l band's music and musical instruments. Evening features live concert. At the end, we present a curated grand finale where all bands play together celebrating music of togetherness, love and peace.

The poster features a central text area with logos at the top and decorative musical instrument illustrations on the sides. The logos include 'Bangladesh 30 Years of Social Inclusion 2025', 'Surjahan 2025', and 'Golf Green Central Coordination Committee'. The text is in various colors: green, red, and purple. The background is a light beige color.

Folkcorn

Netherlands

With over five decades of history, Folkcorn is a pioneering Dutch folk ensemble founded in 1973, celebrated for its dedication to reviving and performing traditional Dutch music with authenticity and depth.

Ale Moller

Sweden

Ale Möller, a celebrated Swedish musician, composer, and multiple Grammy winner, is renowned for his transformative impact on Scandinavian folk music and his role in expanding its global reach. Known for his versatility, Ale skillfully plays an array of instruments, including the mandolin, accordion, flute, shawm, and cowhorn.

Umbra Ensemble

Iceland

Founded in 2014, the Icelandic ensemble Umbra consists of four skilled musicians, offers a unique musical experience through their original arrangements of sacred and secular medieval tunes from Iceland and Europe, traditional Icelandic songs, and works by contemporary Icelandic composers.

Surbandhan

Surbandhan, led by Mohitosh Tapas Talukdar, will present a musical ensemble celebrating the spirit of unity through music, highlighting the power of harmony and togetherness in bringing people together across cultures and traditions.

Folks of Bengal

Folks of Bengal will blend original folk compositions with contemporary elements, presented by Deepmoy Das and Manaswita Thakur. The performance will also feature traditional music by Joyshankar Choudhury and Pranesh Som, creating a unique fusion of past and present musical landscapes.

Bauls of Bengal

Baul music, the soul of Bengal, blends philosophy and melody. Kangal Khyapa from Joydev Kenduli, a master dotara player, will lead a soulful performance with Nimai Khyapa (Murshidabad) and Arjun Khyapa (Nadia), featuring dotara, ektara, and captivating folk rhythms.

Kassam Khan Langa & Team

Kassam Khan is a folk musician from the Langa community, plays traditional instruments like Sindhi Sarangi, Khartal, Morchang and Harmonium. He practices the traditional repertoire of the Langa community in his singing and has vast experience of performing at various local, national and international stages.

The Durua Tribal Song & Dance

The Durua tribe primarily residing in Koraput district of Odisha, is recognized for their rich cultural heritage, which includes vibrant song and dance traditions integral to their community life. Their instruments include Dhol, Singa, mohuri, turburi, kirkisa, Tassa. 16 member team will be joining at Sur Jahan Kolkata. This will be their first performance outside Koraput.

Handicraft Corner in Sur Jahan

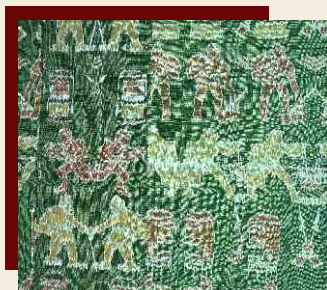

The three day music festival will also host 4 traditional handicraft/ handloom artist of West Bengal, Odisha, Maharashtra and Rajasthan.

Kantha, the traditional embroidery of rural Bengal, transforms old clothes into exquisite products. Women embroider stories of family, community, and dreams, blending sustainability with heritage. Recognized with GI status, Kantha has evolved from a personal craft to a celebrated profession, now reaching global audiences.

Appliqué is a decorative art form where fabric pieces are sewn onto a base fabric to create patterns or designs. It involves stitching or attaching smaller pieces of fabric, often in vibrant colors and intricate shapes, to enhance the overall design. This craft is commonly used in creating garments, home décor items, and textiles, preserving cultural traditions while adding a unique visual appeal.

Warli Painting, a tribal art form from Maharashtra, features geometric patterns to depict daily life, nature, and rituals. Traditionally created with rice paste on mud walls for ceremonies, it now also reflects contemporary themes. With its spiritual significance and eco-friendly technique, Warli art adds a unique cultural touch to modern interiors, making it a timeless decor choice.

Yarn based Sambalpuri tie and dye or Ikkat is a traditional practice in Subarnapur district. The warping and design based dyeing of threads is done in Kendupalli village where there are around 500 weavers. The weavers use natural dyes and are similar to Batik work. The range of motifs is wide includes, animals, local cultural elements and tribal motifs.

Kolkata, Goa and Jaipur to Host World Peace Music Festival Sur Jahan

Catch up with harmonious folk music from around the world in Kolkata, Goa and Jaipur this February

Get ready to enjoy some vibrant folk music from around the world, including India, at the World Peace Music Festival Sur Jahan, through February. Organised by a Kolkata-based cultural and social welfare enterprise, Banglanatak dot com, the festival will take place in Kolkata, the city of its origin, from January 31 to February 2. Then it will travel to Goa (February 5-7) and Jaipur (February 8-10). World Peace Music Festival Sur Jahan is a collaboration among music bands from around the globe and folk artists in India to convey the message of togetherness and harmony through music. The line-up from abroad includes Dalinda from Hungary, who will be exploring beyond their usual A'capella performance. Radiant Arcadia from Denmark, an all-woman band whose members are from Muslim, Jewish and Christian background, and whose repertoire includes Nordic and Celtic folk music, to jazz, rock, Klezmer and Middle Eastern ballads; godfather of Nordic music Ale Möller, South Korean band Coreyah and the legendary singer Danyel Waro from the Reunion Island. The Indian contingent will be represented by the Langas of Rajasthan, an ensemble called the Folks of Bengal and a team of Bauls from West Bengal. Other than musical performances, there will be workshops in the day time. Besides, there will be handicrafts on sale where artists from West Bengal and Rajasthan will participate. In Kolkata, the festival will be held in Mohor Kunj on Chowringhee (near Maidan metro railway station), from 6pm to 9pm. No entry fee for musical performance or crafts fair.

Senegal's Cheikh Lô performs on the second day of the Sur Jahan Musical Festival 2018 at Kala Academy, Campal, Panjim on Thursday.

February 1-3 & February 6-8 2019
Sur Jahan
Kolkata and Goa, India
Music for peace
This resolutely non-commercial festival focuses on exchange and the forging of new musical friendships. Taking place over consecutive weekends in Kolkata and Goa respectively, morning workshops with artists make way for evening concerts from esteemed Bangali musicians and international performers. To date, artists from 26 countries and 12 Indian states have visited the festival, with Cheikh Lô and Finland's Tuletär among the highlights for 2018.

SPOTLIGHT ON...
Sur Jahan

Amrita Bhattacharya
Founder and director

Describe your festival in three words
Music, love, peace.

What is your festival's USP?
Celebrating cultural diversity and spreading the message of togetherness and love is the essence of Sur Jahan. After all individual concerts, we create a grand musical finale with two to four artists from each band. The festival also showcases local traditional folk performances, holds workshops during the day and provides free space for handicraft artists. The festival has a carnival look, is attended by 10,000 people per day, and is free. Music for all and music for peace is the mantra.

What makes a good programme?
Variety of music. The use of ethnic, traditional acoustic instruments is attractive to us. Good vocals are also important. Dance is a plus, it adds colour to the festival.

What's your favourite festival moment?
Sur Jahan's grand finale is always the best part.
